Stefan Walker won my business with his thorough analysis of my housing market, his impressive portfolio of experience and the willingness to act as a liaison for a remote sale of the property (I was already out of state by the time we listed the property). He earned my trust with his reliable and timely communication, patiently taking the time to review important aspects of home sale as it had been over a decade since I last sold a home. He laid out multiple sale strategies and executed the one I selected perfectly. He was not only a reliable real estate agent but also acted as a general contractor to my home improvements, landscaping, cleaning, waste removal and staging the property. His results were better than he predicted and the house was on the market only 4 days before we went into contract with an additional 3 offers submitted in writing during the closing period. Stefan did a superb job implementing our sales plan and helping me maximize returns on my home. I would highly recommend working with Stefan, he's dedicated and meticulous about details. His communication is excellent and negotiation skills proven. He was essential in making my home sale a great experience.

Sorry for the delay Stefan... I hadn't forgot you, just got bogged down with work. It was a pleasure working with you and I hope this referral bolsters confidence in your already deep list of references.

Cheers,
Thom
